IN YATES BURIAL CHAPEL

Two banners, borne by the Family of YATE, are preserved in this Chapel; the first inscribed, "Religio Protestantium. "Leges Angliæ, Libertas Parliamentorum." On the second, a dexter Arm vambraced, issuant from a Cloud holding a Sword. Motto, "Ora & Pugna. Jehovah juvat & juvabit.".—The present INCUMBENT has shewn the good Taste with which he has pursued the Study of Antiquities, by preserving some curious painted Glass, and arranging it in the Window of this Chapel. The Design consists of a Device, a Hand holding a Palm Leaf, and these Arms repeated throughout: "Party per Pale "Azure and Gulesk on a Chevron Argent, between three Palm Trees of the Third, a Rose between two Pinks proper slipped "Or." These were originally put up in the Manor-house of Quedgeley in this County, which had belonged to the Family of CHAPMAN, and at this time to the YATE's.
